CareDx Congratulates C-Path's Transplant Therapeutics Consortium and Paris Transplant Group for Receiving EMA Draft Qualification for iBox Scoring System

2022-10-27

BRISBANE, Calif.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- CareDx, Inc. (Nasdaq: CDNA) – The Transplant Company™ focused on the discovery, development, and commercialization of clinically differentiated, high-value healthcare solutions for transplant patients and caregivers – today congratulates C-Path’s Transplant Therapeutics Consortium and the Paris Transplant Group for their leadership in gaining European Medicine Agency (EMA) draft qualification¹ for the iBox® Scoring System as a secondary endpoint in kidney transplant clinical trials.

“CareDx congratulates C-Path’s Transplant Therapeutics Consortium and the Paris Transplant Group for receiving this regulatory approval for the iBox Scoring System. We applaud their pioneering ingenuity in customizing the iBox risk prediction scoring system for this application which is poised to have a significant impact on transplant patient lives,” said Reg Seeto, CEO and President of CareDx. “We are proud to be long-standing collaborators with the incredible teams at the Transplant Therapeutics Consortium and the Paris Transplant Group and look forward to working together to drive the next wave of transplant innovation.”

The iBox Scoring System is a composite biomarker that utilizes multiple clinically relevant patient features to fully reflect the heterogeneity of graft failure, including measures of renal function (eGFR and proteinuria) and immunologic response to the graft (donor-specific antibody), and assessment of allograft health through histopathology (Banff lesion scores).² For more details, go here.
